By E. C. DRUM-HUNT.

The Vice President and Mrs. Marshall passed a restful Independence Day in Washington. The Vice President took part in the ceremonies yesterday morning when medals were presented to the District of Columbia men who have been in the service, and last evening Mr. and Mrs. Marshall and Master Morrison Marshall witnessed the spectacle on the Capitol steps, which was the climax of the Fourth of July festivities.

It was a quiet Fourth of July for most of the Cabinet members and their wives. The Secretary of State and Mrs. Lansing are, of course, in Europe. The Secretary of the Treasury, Carter Glass, joined Mr. Glass and their daughters at their farm near Lynchburg, Va., for a brief holiday. Postmaster General Burleson is out of town on business for a few days, but Mrs. Burleson and Miss Sidney Burleson remained at their home here. Mr. and Mrs. Burleson were not in the little group of official folk who went to New York last night to meet the President as they were unable to leave town at the time.

Since the home of A. Mitchell Palmer, the Attorney General, was wrecked by a bomb, Mr. and Mrs. Palmer have naturally kept their movements rather quiet, and no information is forthcoming as to where they are spending the Fourth. Secretary of the Navy Daniels made a patriotic address in Columbus, Ohio, and went from there to New York to meet President Wilson on his return on Tuesday. The Secretary of the Interior and Mrs. Lane spent yesterday at home. The Secretary of Commerce and Mrs. Redfield are taking a cruise on Chesapeake Bay, which will last over the week-end, and the Secretary of Agriculture and Mrs. Houston are in the West.

The Secretary of Labor and Mrs. Wilson and their daughters were at home yesterday. If Mrs. Wilson's health permits, they expect to go to their country home at Bloomsburg, Pa., about July 15 for the rest of the summer. Secretary Wilson is a member of the official party which will meet the George Washington and Miss Agnes Hart Wilson accompanied him.

The charge d'affaires of Japan, Katsuki Debuschi, entertained at luncheon at the embassy yesterday in honor of the Japanese prince, Donna, Mme. Tamaki Mura, and the Japanese dancer, Michio Ito, who came to Washington to take part in the Japanese section of the Independence day pageant.

The honor guests returned to New York last night.

Among the guests at the luncheon were the Secretary of War and Mrs. Baker, Gen. and Mrs. Henry Lervey, Maj. Gen. Kazutsugu Inouye, military attaché of the Japanese embassy, Eishiro Nuida, third secretary of the embassy, and Mme. Nuida, Captain Hisao Watari, assistant military attaché, Keinosuke Fujii, third secretary, and Mme. Fujii, Toshio Shiratori, third secretary, and Michio Kaku, attaché.

President-elect Pessoa of Brazil will have New York for home today. Secretary Daniels has instructed the commanding officer of the new super-dreadnought to have his vessel in readiness to sail on that date.

Four torpedo-boat destroyers will escort the Idaho to sea.

Dr. Carl Paul Hubacher, counselor of the legation of Switzerland, and Mme. Hubacher, accompanied by their children, will leave Washington today for Saranac Lake, N. Y. Mme. Hubacher and the children will remain during the summer, but Dr. Hubacher will return within a few days, joining his family at intervals throughout the summer, when he will perform his official duties while in the city.

Dr. George N. Poulet, charge d'affaires of Bulgaria, left Washington Thursday evening for Narragansett Pier to spend the week-end with Mme. Poulet, who is passing the summer with her parents. Dr. and Mrs. Frank Snowden Samuel, who have a cottage there for the summer.

Former Secretary of the Treasury and Mrs. William Gibbs McAdoo passed the Fourth in Columbus, Ohio, where Mr. McAdoo made an address.

King Albert of Belgium has bestowed the dignity of grand officer in the Order of the Crown upon former United States Senator James Hamilton Lewis, of Illinois, in appreciation of Mr. Lewis' devotion to the cause of Belgium.

Leut. Eugene Chiles is spending his holidays with his family in Winchester, Va.

Mrs. William J. French, who resides in the Cecil Apartments in this city, as received word that her husband, Mr. French, has been awarded the Legion of Honor for his welfare work.

Prof. and Mrs. Alexander Graham Bell have gone to their summer home at Budeck, Nova Scotia. Their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. David Fairchild, expect to join them there in about ten days. Mr. and Mrs. Fairchild are now at Prof. and Mrs. Bell's Connecticut avenue residence, having rented "In-the-Woods," their country home, to Col. and Mrs. Rucker.

Miss Josephine Patten is spending a few days with Mr. and Mrs. Archibald Barkle at River House, Wayne, Pa. Mr. and Mrs. Barkle gave a luncheon for Miss Patten yesterday.

Gen. Gen. Louis Meredith Nutman, recently returned from France, has joined his family at the Brighton Hotel and will accompany them by motor to New York and then to Boston. They will spend the greater part of the summer at their home in New York and Massachusetts.

Commander Russell Train, U. S. N., who has been military attaché of the American embassy at Rome, has arrived in this country accompanied by Mrs. Train and their children. After a visit to Washington they have gone to the Adirondacks. Commander Train is on waiting orders. Mrs. Train was formerly Miss Errol Brown, of Washington.

Mr. and Mrs. H. Campbell Graef will leave town today to make a series of visits at Southampton and other places on Long Island, after which they will go to Hot Springs, Va., where they have taken a cottage. They expect to reach Hot Springs about the middle of July. Their daughter, Miss Olive Graef, who is visiting Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Lee and Miss Ellen Bruce Lee at Graceland, Elkins, W. Va., will join Mr. and Mrs. Graef at Hot Springs.

Senator and Mrs. Frank B. Kellogg are spending the holidays motoring to the Jersey coast.

Col. Earl I. Brown, who returned from France recently, has gone to Georgia for a visit of several days to his mother and sister, Col. and Mrs. Brown, who are now at a cottage in Washington about July 15 for a motor trip of several weeks, after which they will go to Cincinnati, where the colonel will be in charge of the engineering office.

Miss Marguerite Simonds, who has been visiting in Louisville, Ky., has returned to town and joined her mother, Mrs. C. C. Calhoun. They will go shortly to their home in Princeton, N. J.

Mrs. Clarence Ridley, wife of Col. Ridley, military aide to the President, has returned to Washington after spending three months in California. Her sister, Miss Vivienne Thomas, of Berkeley, Cal., came to Washington with her and will be the guest of Col. and Mrs. Ridley for several months.

Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert Grosvenor are planning a trip to the West coast this summer. They are now at Wildcat, their country place near Rockville, Md.

Mr. and Mrs. Frederic McElhone and the latter's mother, Mrs. R. Hunter Morris, N. Y., where Mrs. Wadsworth and their children are established for the summer. He will return early next week.

TAMING MY HUSBAND

By KATHLEEN FOX.

(Copyright, 1920, by the McClure Newspaper Syndicate.)

I was sitting up in bed with the tray across my knees when I heard a knock at the door. Before I could answer it, Crittenden opened the door and entered.

"May I come in?" he inquired, stiffly polite.

"Your presence seems to answer my question, does it not?" I replied, impersonally.

"For goodness sake, Miss, let's end this farce," he protested. "I'm heartily sick and tired of it!"

"Do you think that is a good reason for ending it—that you are heartily sick and tired of it?" I asked, coolly. "You did not ask how I felt about it."

"It's ridiculous that I hurt you the other night," he insisted. "You know damned well I didn't."

I laughed. He colored, painfully. Crittenden was pacing up and down the room. Meanwhile I had been sitting up in bed and for a full minute looked at me. I met his gaze inquiringly, smiling amiably. I shrugged my shoulders and then buttered one of Ellen's crisp rolls.

"Well, I'm damned glad you can eat!" Crittenden exclaimed.

"Yes."

He did not answer, but I saw his hands clenching tightly. I strode to the door, jerked it open and stalked out.

Then I finished my dinner, enjoying it, every morsel. That done, I locked the door and read myself to sleep. I had had a most enjoyable evening.

LAUNDERING SILK

Never rub soap on silk or crepe de chine lingerie when washing it. Make a suds of tepid water and pure white soap and let the garment soak in this for an hour or two.

Then squeeze or, if necessary, rub it gently between the hands.

Rinse in three waters and hang in a shady place to dry. Remove from line while still damp and press with an iron that is not too hot.

By this method the garment will look as well as new and be quite as satisfactory to the dry cleaner.

Virginia Lee's Personal Answers To Herald Readers' Questions

Did you know that the shops are showing for little girls in every size summer frocks all cut out and stamped with the most simple designs?

The dresses, especially those with the cross stitch and outline designs, can be made up in a single day if one is blessed with a knack at sewing.

I have seen these little dresses at a great many of the Washington stores and some are very reasonably priced.

If you will compare the prices on the garments you buy and those already finished up, I am sure you will feel that you have found a wonderful bargain.

Troop Arrivals

I have received inquiries concerning the following troop arrivals and the War Department informed me July 3 that:

The 22nd Aero Squadron arrived at Camp Mills June 28 and was ordered to Garden City.

The Fifty-fifth Company Engineers sailed June 26 and was due in New York July 3 to be sent to Camp Grant.

Company C, Battalion 1, 11th Engineers, arrived at Camp Jackson June 26.

Company L, Thirty-fourth Engineers, is assigned.

Company C, Battalion 1, 11th Engineers, arrived at Boston June 26 and is now at Camp Devens, ordered to D. A. Russell.

The Headquarters of the Seventh Army Corps, Camp Mills July 1 for Camp Union.

Repair Section 12, Group C, is assigned.

Ordnance Depot No. 2 is in New Mexico.

Squadron 1 of the Second Cavalry arrived at New York June 28, and was sent to Camp Mills. They are ordered to Fort Riley, Kan.

T. Company, 46th, is not assigned.

The 15th Transportation Railway Corps is assigned.

The 56th Company, Transportation Battalion Corps, is assigned.

Part of the 81st Pioneer Infantry has sailed.

Company C of the Sixty-ninth Engineers is now the 13th Transportation Corps, and is assigned.

Company L of the 80th Pioneer Infantry arrived at New York June 27. They are now at Camp Union, ordered to Camp Funston, Kansas.

Concerning Troops

If those making inquiries concerning the 11th Pioneer Infantry will state just what part of that group they are interested in, I may be able to give them some definite information.

"Anxious Mother" will write out in full the company she is interested in I will endeavor to obtain information concerning it. The War Department kne w nothing of such a company as mentioned in her letter.

Company E of the Twentieth Provisional Regiment could not be identified.

Suitable Hat

Dear Miss Lee: What kind of hat would be appropriate to wear with a dark blue and white flowered chiffon dress—Phyllis.

A dark blue hat, especially a large one, with a touch of white, would look extremely well with such a dress. All white or all black is appropriate.

Flowers

Dear Miss Lee: Friend of mine here have been kind to me. Do you think I could show my appreciation by sending them some flowers? What kind of flowers would you suggest—Anon.

Flowers are always acceptable, and certainly a most appropriate gift. I have seen small baskets of cut flowers that looked very attractive and if you will send me a self-addressed, stamped envelope, I will be glad to tell you just where that particular kind can be purchased.

Use of Spoons

Dear Miss Lee: Will you please tell me the use of desert spoons? Kindly tell me the correct size of handles and dinner spoons. What should I expect a colored set of all-way to do when I do the cooking myself—A Bride.

Use your desert spoons with heavy puddings and brick ice cream. The correct size in napkins for luncheon is thirteen inches; for dinner twenty-two. Have your maid watch the meals when you are out of the kitchen, assume entire care of serving and washing the dishes.

Reputation Built on Quality and Service

Dear Miss Lee: Since my discharge from the army I have met a girl I love. I have been going with her but a short time. As she is but 19 and has to help support her mother, I do not think it would be right to ask her to marry me without asking her? She has always been friendly—W.

If she is always friendly and pleasant to you, you can conclude that she likes you. But you have no right to investigate her feelings further until you are in a position to ask her to marry you. To attempt to do this would be most unfair.

Child-Care Expert of the U. S. Children's Bureau

Every healthy baby should have a daily bath.

In very hot weather he should have two baths a day—one in the morning, and a cool sponge bath before going to bed at night.

When hot weather brings to babies the plague of prickly heat there is nothing better and more soothing than the bran bath.

Care for Prickly Heat

For this fill a salt bag or muslin bag with ordinary bran, put the filled bag into warm water, and soak and squeeze the bag until the water becomes milky. Put the baby into the bath for five or ten minutes, dabbing the water gently over his whole body, and dry him gently with a soft towel, and without rinsing off the bran. Use no soap. Just leave the baby's skin gently with the milky water. The bran bath may be repeated daily as long as the skin is inflamed.

The ordinary daily bath is usually given the baby in mid-morning, after the bowels have moved, and before the mid-morning feeding.

Giving Bath

Bathe the baby in a comfortably warm room, being sure he is protected from drafts. Use a small infant's bath tub for babies under a year old. Test the water with the point of the elbow. When it feels neither hot nor cold to the elbow it is right for the baby's skin. Never add hot water to the tub after the baby is put in. Never leave a young baby alone in the tub. Watch and hold him constantly. Before beginning to undress the baby for his bath gather all the materials needed. A mild soap, soft towels, powder, the clean clothes, the rubber syphon for the tub, tub, water, etc., should be placed in easy reach. Soft cheesecloth is excellent to use in washing the baby. The towels should be old and soft.

Use Little Talk

Before the baby is entirely undressed, wash his head and scalp

U. S. WILL HELP WOMEN WHO WANT WORK

Women ought to know what the United States Employment Service means to them in particular.

A woman has only to go to such an office, and tell the trained and sympathetic women in charge of it, that she wants work. Her application may be filed at once with work in her home city. Or, if she has had special training along some particular line, her application may be referred to the offices of every State. When a position is found for her, no charge is made either to her or to the employer.

Perhaps she lives far from an office of the Employment Service. If she does, she may write a letter to the nearest office, telling what she is qualified to do, and in what location she prefers to be. A skilled woman will take charge of her request, and fill it with the greatest speed and satisfaction possible.

New Fairy Stories For Little Folks' Summer Reading

At the summer camp or around the city home living room table, boys and girls are always wanting "something to read." Books to fill this need in which the characters are fairies and queer folk of the land of "make believe" can be found at several of the local book shops. Some of the most interesting stories for the vacation time boy and girl are:

"The Noah's Ark Book," by Fish and Margaret Levington. This is a story written in rhyme with a generous number of colored cartoons to amuse the lads and lassies.

"Fairy Roads to Science Town," by Mary Earle Hardy, is an illustrated fairy book whose heroes and heroines are the inanimate creatures of the sea.

Children who delight in animals will enjoy browsing over the pages of Charles G. D. Roberts' book, "Jim, the Story of a Backwoods Police Dog."

Ada M. and Eleanor L. Skinner have written a book entitled, "The Pearl Story Book," legends and stories which will appeal especially to the imaginary child.

PORCH PILLOWS

One of the prettiest porch pillows of the season is fashioned of natural-colored linen, with wide Persian taffeta ribbon stitched about its fat center. It is a square pillow, and the ribbon looks like a broad stripe in one with the material. Another good effect is to center a natural crash pillow with a square of cretonne or border it with the same, just to tie in with the rest of the cretonned porch fittings.

gently with a very little soap, being careful not to get it in his eyes, and rinsing the soap off well.

After the head is washed, remove the clothes and bathe with soapy cloth the entire body. Then set the baby in the tub, holding him with the left hand and arm and sponging the body with the right hand. Remove the baby from the bath and wrap him in the towel, patting the skin gently to dry it.

A little very fine talcum powder should be used in the folds and creases of the skin. Many mothers use far too much, thus clogging the pores of the skin. Do not apply powder until skin is well dried.

BLOOMERS POPULAR

The long slim suit and dress skirts almost make the wearing of petticoats an impossibility. But we may be just as modestly and comfortably clad, for there are the long bloomers to take their place.

These bloomers or pantaloons are usually chosen in dark colors, and may be had ankle length or shorter and with or without rules. A new style has an accordion-plated piece set in just above the shoe-tops. For summer the short silk jersey bloomers in dark and pink with uneven insets of lace at the knee, are perhaps the newest. Camisoles of silk jersey with lace, or embroidered in pink and blue silk, are also new.

DOTTED SWISS FROCKS

Lovely little frocks for morning wear at a summer hotel, or afternoon wear at home, are of tinted dotted Swiss with cuffs, collar and hemmed waist of white lawn or Swiss embroidery. One of these dainty frocks in lavender has a tucked skirt, elbow sleeves and surprise bodice. The white embroidery collar is in shawl shape, crossing with the surprise front, and the deep cuffs are tied with coquettish bows of lavender ribbon.

USING WHITE MULL

White mull edge with Valenciennes lace is used for collars and vests in many of the finer chiton blouses and in velvet and cloth dresses. Its sort outline is becoming to most women. The same idea is carried out in separate collar and cuff sets.

THIN AND Dainty FOR MID-SUMMER

There is a sign today that is not good for hotel keepers, except those that cater to persons of great wealth. Food problems come much to the front this month, but they will deal with cooks rather than with supplies.

Persons whose birthdate is in May have business changes. Those who are employed may find new positions.

Children born on this day may be proud and hard to manage. They should be watched, lest they be inclined to be deceitful.

Underwear prices are promised another jump in the near future. It might be possible for one to procure lingerie now, money would be saved.
